Biography

Shahryar Ahmadi, M.D., FRCSC, is a board-certified orthopedic surgeon who specializes in treating shoulder and elbow surgery with Memorial Orthopaedic Surgical Group in Long Beach.

He received his medical degree from Tehran University of Medical Sciences and completed a residency in orthopaedic surgery at the University of Toronto Medical School. Dr. Ahmadi then completed his fellowship in shoulder and elbow surgery at Mayo Clinic. He is board-certified by the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgeons and the Canadian Board of Orthopaedic Surgery.

Dr. Ahmadi served as the Director, Shoulder & Elbow Surgery, and Associate Professor of Orthopaedics at the University of Arkansas. This included responsibilities at Arkansas Children's Hospital, Department of Orthopaedics. He taught and trained residents, fellows and orthopedic surgeons, and the program grew under his leadership.

His research focuses on high-energy proximal humerus fractures (PHF) in geriatrics and muscle-fatty degeneration. His work has been published in multiple peer-reviewed journals. He is a member of the American Shoulder & Elbow Surgeons, American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, and a fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Canada.

Dr. Ahmadi and his wife enjoy exploring and new adventures in Southern California as recent transplants. He enjoys gardening, opera, and cooking.
