Course Description
The 2016 Annual Wound Care Symposium is a one-day conference designed to:
• Improve the level of understanding of wound and skin care issues related to special patient populations.
• Enhance caregiver assessments, prevention, interventions, and utilization of Best Practice tools.
• Introduce strategies to improve care and reduce the risk of litigation.

Course Objectives
Upon completion of this seminar, the participant should be able to:
• Identify 2 Best Practice tools for Hospital Acquired Pressure Ulcer (HAPU) prevention.
• Describe the new NPUAP pressure injury terminology and descriptions.
• Describe 2 approaches of physical therapy to optimize wound healing for patients.
• Identify current wound and skin care issues and treatments for patients with complex wounds.
• Describe state of the art, evidence based practices and innovations in the specialty of wound care.
• Describe risk management strategies and clinical documentation needs to reduce the risk of litigation on a HAPU case.
• Recognize relevant information on differences in prevalence, diagnosis, and treatment of wounds in diverse populations.
• AB1195 - Apply linguistic skills to communicate effectively with the wound care patient population, including linguistic translations of common terms in wound care.

Target Audience
